

Gestures of Refusal: Black Photography and Visual Culture

On view through September 15, 2024

Featuring the work of more than one hundred contemporary Black artists with ties to New Orleans, exhibition viewers can engage with five immersive installations and over two hundred art objects. Each piece showcases a diverse range of photographic styles and narrative forms of Black visuality that challenge conventional representations of Blackness. This exhibition was curated by CAC Curatorial Resident Shana M. griffin

KMDP 10th Anniversary Showcase

On view: August 24 - 25, 2024

KM Dance Project is a New Orleans based dance company presenting progressive choreography and innovative multi-disciplinary works that lie at the intersection of dance-theater and social justice. To commemorate its 10th anniversary, the local dance company has a weekend filled with performances, workshops, artist panels, and a post-show party. The company is led by Kesha McKey and Catherine Caldwell.

Prospect 6

On view: November 2 - February 1, 2025

Historically, New Orleans has been regarded as a city deeply rooted in its past. For Prospect.6, Co-Artistic Directors Miranda Lash and Ebony G. Patterson will posit New Orleans as a globally relevant point of departure for examining our collective future as it relates to climate change, legacies of colonialism, and definitions of belonging and home.
